EDITORIAL

It seems that nobody in the village is willing or able to contribute 'Memories of Finborough'. I won't ask again !

In the absence of any fresh glimpses into the past I have enclosed a reprint of the article that first appeared in the Newsletter 1975 but was originally printed in the Stowmarket Mercury in the 1950's

FINBOROUGH AND THE PETTIWARDS

From all directions, and far afield, Finborough Spire as a landmark is unmistakable. In 1877, Robert John Pettiward built the tower and spire in memory of his wife, and then thirty one years later the bells were installed in his own remembrance.

Unlike Stowmarket Spire, it forms an integral part of the tower, and the body of the church below is dwarfed by their combined height. On completion of necessary repairs, some years past, the steeplejacks invited members of the Parish Council to inspect their work. The authorities, however, took the mens' word for it and declined. A photograph of the work in progress shows one man athwart the steeple, and another, supported by a rope halfway down. The arrangement was infinitely more dangerous than that we recently saw at Stowmarket.

In profusion on the spire, are stars taken from the Pettiward's Coat-of-Arms.....

GREAT FINBOROUGH W.I.

Members will have no excuse for sloppy washing-lines after Rev. Pugh's instructions at our June meeting ! He gave us a fascinating insight on how Port Sunlight was started and what it is like to live there, although there are snags as well as benefits like having your grass mown for you and your washing dealt with ! Port Sunlight is now a tourist attraction as every house is different, but it is a little too far for a W.I. outing which is a pity when so much interest was shown and we were very grateful to our Speaker for giving us such an entertaining evening when he has so many other calls on his time.

We were fortunate that the weather warmed up for the Open Garden and Cream Teas at Westlegate on June 12th so it was well-supported and our thanks are due to Brenda for allowing her garden to be invaded, to those who made cakes and served the teas and to all those who took the trouble to come along and visit it.

We hope the weather will be equally kind for our Garden Meeting on July 13th, which will be a Barbeque at Ann Bailey's house at 14 Stearn Drive, Onehouse (opposite Northfield Road) at 7.00 p.m. - not 7.30 p.m.

Our future meetings include a varied programme, with Linda Noller telling us about Aromatherapy on August 10th and, as this is now so popular, it will be interesting to hear advice from a professional on how it should be done and which oils to use. Our Autumn programme gets cracking with an Indian evening so we dust down our cookery books on September 14th after the Summer break, not only for curries but also for side dishes and salads to stimulate our taste-buds and enjoy something different.

GREAT FINBOROUGH PARISH COUNCIL

KILL YOUR SPEED SIGNS

Whilst the Parish Council welcome these signs, concern has been expressed to Suffolk County Council about the height of the one nearest to Stowmarket.

NEXT MEETING

The next meeting of the Parish Council will take place on Thursday July 7th 1994 at 7.30pm in the Pettward Hall.

Clerk to the Parish Council

Educating children in Suffolk since 1911
Boys and Girls - Day and Weekly Boarding

A warm and friendly welcome awaits you and your children here. We offer a wide range of services on our 12-acre site, including Montessori classes. You will also find a traditional preparatory school with classes of about 12 pupils. Our standards mean that in 1993 we had a fifty per cent scholarship rate - the best in East Anglia - meaning that half our graduates won money off senior school fees.

We also operate a Dyslexia Unit with properly-qualified staff with up-to-date specialist qualifications, and we intervene as young as five if necessary. Our Gifted Children Programme recognises the very able as having their own special needs. The Phoenix caters for those students aged 11 to 16 for whom school is not a good place to be: they are educationally sensitive. We already have one County Placement in The Phoenix, so it is also recognised as efficient.

We live on site, so do telephone at any time, or write for details of any of the above. You do not have to be a member of the school to join the Montessori afternoons which have no more than ten children each.
